

SEXUAL DEVIANCE IN THE NEW MILLENNIUM ADDRESSES THE NEEDS FOR FORENSIC AND LAW ENFORCEMENT PROFESSIONALS

There are people who believe they are invincible to sexual crimes within modern society. Sexual crimes ranging from video voyeurism to serial murder continue to be a problem and continue to get worse. The public's intense fascination with the sex criminal's motivations undoubtedly heightens our interest into the minds of these individuals, and there becomes a growing need for law enforcement personnel to understand their criminal mind-set.

True wisdom comes to each of us when we realize how little we understand about the world around us.
- Socrates

Sexual Deviance In The New Millennium

AN IN-DEPTH LOOK INTO THE MINDS OF SEXUAL PREDATORS AND THE USE OF VIOLENT & NON-VIOLENT PORNOGRAPHY WITHIN THE NEW MILLENNIUM

This course offers careful examination into the fantasy world of sexually deviant individuals. The underlying motivations of some of the most common and extraordinarily rare paraphilic behavior will be explored. This course examines the evolution of violent and non-violent sexual deviance, including but not limited to necrophilia, lust murder, sexual sadism, voyeurism, pedophilia, and so on, as well as the path toward criminal activity and its addictive processes through the internet.

THIS COURSE PROVIDES AN INNOVATIVE APPROACH INCORPORATING FORENSIC AND BEHAVIORAL DYNAMICS INTO THE MIND-SET OF SEXUAL PREDATORS

Objective is to introduce law enforcement personnel into the fantasy world of sex offenders via use of pornography on the internet, as well as introduce law enforcement personnel to theoretical perspectives of sexualized violence, as well as sexual deviance. Assess the behavioral dynamics of violent and non-violent sex offenders and identify warning signs conducive to sexual criminal behavior.